Possibly Near Swindler.
An elderly man has just been arrested in Berlin, Germany, who had won quite a reputation as a swindler of widows. He was in the habit of visiting the cemeteries and bringing himself into the notice of widows who had come to weep over their husbands' graves. He would engage a bereaved woman in conversation and then point forth to her his sorrow over the death of his own wife. Acquaintanceship begins in this way. Various new ideas of friendship, and that resulted in a proposal of marriage from the "widower" to the widow. The man would then borrow a sum of money from his future bride, or pawn some of her late husband's possessions and disappear. Some dozens of widows have been defrauded by him.

Teak Mother Liberty.
Marian pointed to the glass or cup when she wished a drink, uttering inarticulate sounds intended to convey her desire. She was old enough to talk some, but she had never been taught to ask for a drink. Mother said to her: "When you want a drink, Marian, you say, 'Mamma, or papa, or Hazel, or Mildred, drink.'" The next time Marian wished a drink she pointed to the cup and said: "Mamma, papa, Hazel, Mildred, drink-drink-drink-drink!"

Divorced by Candle.
If the marriage yoke tests uncomfortable upon a Burmese couple, a divorce may be quickly and inexpensively obtained, with a bit of enchantment thrown in gratis. Husband and wife agreeing that life apart would present greater charms, the wife goes out and purchases two small candles, made especially for such occasions. These candles are exactly the same size, but each has some distinguishing mark, one being intended to represent the man, the other the woman. At exactly the same moment the candles are lighted, and the unhappy couple anxiously watches them burn. When one candle goes out the divorce is complete, but with one condition—the owner of the candle which has gone out must at once leave the house with nothing but the clothes worn at the moment. The other party remains in possession of the house and all therein.

Mark Twain in Satirical Humor.
"Even the clearest and most perfect circumstantial evidence is likely to be at fault, after all, and therefore ought to be received with great caution," said the late Mark Twain. "Take the case of any pencil sharpened by any woman. If you have witnesses, you will find she did it with a knife; but if you simply take the aspect of the pencil, you will say she did it with her teeth."

"Jes' Full o' Take."
The cast-off hats and dresses of the women of the family have frequently been offered to the maid in a back side family. Last week, when asked whether she would take a pair of shoes that were believed to be too heavy for wet weather at this time of the year she replied: "O, jes' full o' take, I've jes' full o' take; I've raised no never to refuse anything." —Indiana Post News.

Made a Good Guess.
A gentleman was watching a military funeral passing down the street. It was a very pretentious affair, and he walked to the edge of the curb to get a better view of the spectacle. Just then the flag-draped caisson passed, bearing the flower-laden coffin. His curiosity was all the more aroused, so he stepped up to a newsboy, who was watching the procession, and asked: "Who's dead, sonny?" The newsie looked at his questioner and then at the passing troops and finally said: "I don't know, boss; but I guess it must be the feller under all dem flowers."

Why She is Silent.
It is said that women nowadays are less prone than men to weary themselves with long discourses upon their favorite hobbies, and that furthermore, the beauty doctor is responsible for this feminine peculiarity. The woman absorbed in beauty culture has little time for any other hobby, and the secrets of the toilet are not such as can be discussed with all and sundry.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS
By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist
THE BREAD QUESTION.
No question in diet, except the meat question, has been so vigorously debated as that of the relative values of white and brown or entire wheat bread. Some maintain that the fine white flour contains a larger percentage of nutriment than the entire wheat flour, quoting the analysis of the government chemist to prove it. They also insist that the coarse outer shell of the wheat is extremely irritating to the delicate lining of the intestinal canal, one physician, who writes extensively on diet, going so far as to say that it is better to use the white bread and take a "judicious pill," occasionally.
It is urged by those who favor white bread that tests show a larger percentage of waste in the excreta from whole wheat bread; in other words, the fine white bread is more completely assimilated. This is the truth, but not the whole truth. The whole wheat flour contains everything that the fine white flour contains, and some very valuable elements not in the white flour.
It is true that the elements of food of which the largest percentages are needed in the daily ration are carbon and nitrogen, and that white bread contains these in larger percentage, because excluding some valuable elements of nutrition found in the whole wheat. But the exclusion of these elements breaks the staff of life.
Human Happiness.
Well-being and happiness are not an inheritance of which we take possession at birth and which we are destined to enjoy at our ease; they are to be searched after with unwearying assiduity. We enter into life destitute of everything but simple existence. All that we enjoy in our passage through life are acquisitions; they are the result and the rewards of our own diligence and care, or communicated by the diligence and care of others.—Cogan.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF NORTHERN VISITOR.

Mrs. Anna M. Marrenner and Mrs.
Rolland E. Stevens entertained very pleasantly at cards Wednesday afternoon at the winter home of the latter on South Ridgewood avenue in honor of Mrs. Edwin S. Munroe of Joliet, Ill., who is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. George H.
Munroe, at her winter home on South Ridgewood avenue.

Auction bridge was the game employed, ten tables being engaged.
Fifty or more ladies were present, 10 or 12 of the number not taking part in the cards.

The guests were entertained in the large living room of the residence, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, yellow being the predominating color and the flowers including a profusion of lovely roses and carnations.

Delicious punch was served during the hours of entertainment, from 2 to 5 o'clock, and at the conclusion of the cards refreshments were enjoyed.

MAKES A BIG DISCOVERY

Shortington Finds That Things Once Bemoaned May Prove Greatest Blessing.

"You know how opposites are attracted," said Mr. Shortington.

"When I was a younger man my very particular friend and chum was a chap who was six feet four, while I wasn't much more than four feet six. Despite the disparity in our dimensions we were the closest of friends, and as far as I was concerned there was only one thing that marred my otherwise complete happiness and that was that I could not be as tall as he. But the time came when I thought differently about that, and when in fact, he, instead of being proud of his altitude, wished only that he had been built on my more limited scale, and that was when in our later life we had both come to be afflicted with rheumatism.

"Then when I looked at him, racked with pain throughout his tall frame, I was glad that I was not tall but short; and when he reflected on the nearly two feet more of space in himself that the rheumatism had to roam over he used to groan and wish that he had been built short like me.

"Isn't it singular how things come about? The things that at one time we may most bemoan may prove in the end our greatest blessing."

Open to Question.

The head of a certain household is one of those Christians whose preaching always is in advance of his practice. One day he asked a beautiful grace before beginning a meal, then found fault with everything on the table. The meal concluded, he returned thanks with characteristic unction. The youngest daughter of the family pulled at her mother's sleeve. "Which does he believe, mamma, what he tells us or what he tells God?"

Scientific Gardening in England.

By the use of French gardening methods, relying largely upon hotbeds and glass jars in the colder months, single acres of ground near London are being made to yield from $2,400 to $3,000 in vegetables annually.
There is a product to market throughout the year. Melons, little grown in England, are forced by a steady temperature of 90 degrees, generated by manure.

Time to Call a Halt.

"When our sense of humor becomes so acute that it sees through our own illusions as well as other people's," says the Philosopher of Folly, "it is time to put blinders on it."

"TWELFTH NIGHT" TO BE GIVEN AT PUBLIC SCHOOL.

"Twelfth Night" will be presented in the auditorium of the public school building tomorrow night by pupils of the Daytona high school, and promises to be one of the best entertainments ever provided for the public by members of the school. Appropriate costumes have been secured for the play and were used in the photographs of those taking part which are displayed in the store windows and form an attractive advertising feature.

The money realized from the entertainment is to be used for the purchase of more books for the school library and all attending the performance will be contributing to this worthy cause as well as providing for themselves an evening of enjoyment. Daytona's citizens should show their patriotism by encouraging the school children in their ambition for a larger and better library.

Relics of Past Grace.

Nothing is too queer to happen in some corner of New York, says the press of that city. The other day a business woman took a room at what appeared to be an ordinary, small, quiet family hotel on West Forty-fourth street. The morning after her arrival she noticed a little old man sitting in the long hall which ran by the double parlors. Another man came downstairs and the little old chap jumped up and joined him, and together they went into the back parlor.

Strolling down the hall, she happened to glance through the open door of the back parlor. There she saw the two men on their knees at a couch, jervently praying aloud. The business woman passed her hand across her brow. "Have I got 'em?" she murmured, "or have I got into the foolish house?"

Later she discovered that the hotel had in former years been a "home" connected with a church, and that although it long since passed under secular management some of the old-time brethren still haunt it.

Stumbles on Vein of Gold.

For seven pesos or about $2.55 a poor Chilean bought a few weeks ago the foundation of an old house in Putu near Constitution, relates the New York Sun. As the man grubbed out the stones from the earth his attention was attracted to the yellow specks in one of them. He found it contained an extraordinarily large proportion of gold. He inquired as to whence the stones originally came and finally traced them to a hill in the vicinity. There he found in the slope a vein of gold-bearing rock.
From a small portion of which in the course of a week's work he and a couple of friends extracted $75,000 worth of gold. A company has now been formed with a capital of $100,- 000 to open up the vein and determine its true value.

Maintained Belief in Ignorance.

Opposition to state education in the past was due largely to a belief that too much learning was not good for the masses. The worthy Hannah More even, who was one of the most earnest supporters of the movement for the establishment of schools for the poor in England, had very definite ideas as to how far the children should be educated. The curriculum, she declared, should comprise only reading the Bible and the catechism, and "such coarse works as may fit the children for servants," adding decisively, "I allow of no writing for the poor."

Outwitted the Cabby.

"One day it was raining very heavily in Berlin, and a wealthy merchant, on leaving the exchange, hailed a cab and asked to be driven to a distant part of the city. On the way the merchant discovered that he had forgotten to put his purse in his pocket.
What was to be done? On reaching his destination he got out of the cab and said to the driver: "Will you please give me a match? I have dropped a gold-piece on the floor of the cab." Instantly the cabman whipped up his horse and soon disappeared round the next corner.

Does Friendship Do This?

"It may be true for some natures, as Leonardo said, that 'if you are alone you belong wholly to yourself, if you have a companion, you belong only half to yourself,' but it is certainly not so with me. With me friendship never divides; it multiplies. A friend always makes me more than I am, better than I am, bigger than I am. We two make four, or fifteen, or forty."
—American Magazine.

Sometimes We Forget.

Aristotle said that a city is a place where men live a common life for a loble end.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

DO YOU KNOW YOURSELF?

A personal word to you, whoever you are. I want you to forget the whole world for a moment and just think of yourself.

Now, do not mistake this for an appeal to vanity. I want you to think of your very best self, a something within you perhaps as yet undiscovered.

Maybe you are a better being than you have thought. Why don't you give yourself a chance?

Physicians now tell us that but a small part of our energy is used, and psychologists assure us of the power of constructive and beautiful thoughts upon our lives.

Perhaps you only know the surface of this mysterious being you call yourself. Bring forth some of the deeper levels of your energy. Make yourself what you aspire to become.

This is not new thought. This is common sense. It has been known for ages and has been practiced by the greatest men and women.

Whether used consciously or unconsciously, it has ever been the secret of success of those who have led the world's thought.

Get acquainted with yourself.

This does not mean being introspective on the one hand or selfish on the other. Both of these are weaknesses.

It means to live and work with your whole being—body, soul and spirit.

You cannot be somebody else, for in-itation is also a weakness, but you can be the best and highest statement of yourself.

All the universe is pledged to help you if you live in harmony with its laws. All your own inherent powers are pledged to help you if you live in harmony with the laws of your own being.

There are three talismanic words that may help you find the way. They were used by Paul—"faith," "hope" and "love."

Faith is a mighty engine in the reconstruction of our own interior lives.
Hope is the magnet that draws us onward. Love is the inspiration that makes us render service.

We work for that which we love.
Perhaps it is our family. If so it is a joy to serve it. Perhaps it is our country, our calling. Maybe it is art, or fame, or wealth. If we love enough there is intense pleasure in working for the object. With a few high souls the actuating motive is love of humanity or of God. They find their heaven in serving these. They do great work because they call out their souls, their whole power.

Bring forth the best and greatest that is in you.

BREAD UPON THE WATERS.

This is a story from life or, as the children would say, a "really true story."

Years ago, when Miss Marion L. Covert of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was a child of six, she often visited relatives in Marlboro. In summers there boarded at a neighboring farmhouse a middle aged business man of Chicago. His name was Gerald Thurston.

The little girl gave him flowers and hunted for him the finest fruits. Naturally there sprang up a friendship, and the man often returned to the farmhouse, where the little girl still brought him fruits and flowers.

Then they drifted out of each other's life as people will. The girl, who was a cripple, grew to womanhood; the man grew to old age.

Maybe it was the fact that she was a cripple that made little Marion so thoughtful of others. Have you not noticed that those who are themselves afflicted are quicker in their sympathy for their fellows?

A few days ago Miss Marion L. Covert was surprised to learn that she had been left $150,000 by the will of the late Gerald Thurston of Chicago.

Still thoughtful of others, the first cry of the crippled girl was that now she could take her parents to live with her in New York.

We get what we give. The child gave kindness with no thought of return, but the seed took root and grew through the years and at last bore the fruit of a greater kindness that came back to her.

As it is in nature, so in life. Whatever kind of seed we plant, that kind of a crop we raise. Corn brings forth corn. The oak grows from the acorn of another oak.

"Every tree bringeth forth fruit after its own kind."

He who sows hatred reaps hatred.
He who sows good deeds reaps good deeds. Sometimes the crop is deferred, but sooner or later it ripens.

It is like the bread upon the waters that returns after many days.

Can you see the kindness of the little crippled child?

Do you imagine that in God's good green world such deeds pass unnoticed?

WHAT IS THE MATTER?

This is the story:
Henry Weinbaum of New York was a clothes presser, earning $12 a week.
On this sum he supported himself, his wife and four small children.

The wife died.

Weinbaum was confronted with a situation most heartbreaking. He must care for the four motherless children and at the same time be away from his home and employed at his work, else the children would have nothing to eat.

Somehow for several months he managed to get along.

Then he did about the only thing he could do under the circumstances. He married again.

Unfortunately he made a poor choice of a second wife. She complained that the children made too much work and demanded that they be put in a public institution.

To save his little family from such a fate was Weinbaum's purpose in getting his children their new mother.
He wanted to keep his little brood together. Therefore he refused her request.

She sued him for divorce.

On just what grounds the divorce was granted is not clear, but the judge gave her a decree. As part of the judgment Weinbaum was ordered to pay the woman $4 per week alimony.

Of course the man could not pay that sum and support his family. The other day he was arrested, his arrears, with costs, amounting to $207.88.

In default of payment he was sent to Ludlow street jail.

Now—

Wife No. 2 is free from the care of the troublesome children. Weinbaum is in jail with no prospect of release and the children are wards of charity.

Even the jailer remarked when Weinbaum was committed—jailers are not particularly free with sympathy—that "there must be something the matter with the law somehow."

And there is something the matter with the law. But what?

The law is out of gear.

And yet it is difficult to find the cog and adjust it.

Weinbaum is guilty of nothing but the best intentions and yet he is in jail.

What is the matter with the law?
Or is it merely that Weinbaum is poor?

Food Specialist

VEGETARIAN AHEAD AGAIN.

That a simple diet, excluding meat, will maintain greater endurance than a mixed diet, including flesh, is again proved by the test under the direction of Dr. Anderson of Harvard. When the Buffman brothers started to walk across the continent there was a difference of only three pounds in their weight. At Denver Warren H., who eats about the same food as his brother, exclusive of meats, showed a gain of 15 pounds. This corresponds with the views frequently expressed in these Hints and the results are of all similar tests in England and Germany. The same results will appear from tests of the influence of complex diet on mental capacity. To exclude meat is not to give an ideal diet, but that is the most important improvement that can be made.

Man's Superiority Early Shown.

Rude sculpture dating back, scientific authorities believe, at least 200,- 000 years, show that primitive man made representations of other creatures at a stage of human development when the conditions of existence were little in advance of those prevailing among the higher mammals of that period. But no other desire or ability to make images of anything.

Felt She Was Neglected.

There was company in the parlor, and little Marjorie, overheard, listened longingly to the sounds of fun and laughter that from time to time floated up to her chamber. When, by and by, her mother came in for a last look and kiss, she found her darling wide awake and reproachful. "Oh, mamma," was the unexpected exclamation of the small maiden, "I've been so lonely, lying here all alone, while you were having such a liberal time downstairs."

* STATE HAPPENINGS

News from Far Florida Briefly Told

Work on Fort Lauderdale's waterworks system is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that within a few weeks water will be turned into the main. The engine has arrived for the pumping station and workmen are busily engaged in erecting the waterworks building.

W. E. Covington of Fort Lauderdale is exhibiting two large wildcats, which he killed on his farm near there. One of the specimens is of extraordinary size and excited much comment from the large number of people who saw the animals. There were five of the cats, but Mr. Covington succeeded in killing only two.

If the yield of the Irish potato crop is as abundant and satisfactory in appearance and size as the growers have a right to expect from Florida's unexcelled soil, and usual response to cultivation, this state will be able to supply the whole country, judging from the acreage planted in potatoes, with the provision, of course, that the weather conditions are favorable.

A Waldo dispatch says: While alone in her home Mrs. D. H. Hartley accidentally set her clothing on fire and was so badly burned before help came that she died a few hours later. The cause of the fire is unknown. The house was burning when help came, but was saved.
Mrs. Hartley leaves a husband to mourn her sad death. She came here from New Hampshire several years ago, and has lived in and near Waldo most of the time.

At an adjourned meeting of the fruit and truck growers of Fort Lauderdale vicinity, held in Oliver hall, an association was organized known as "The Fruit and Truck Growers' Association." Twenty-one charter members were enrolled. A committee of five was appointed to draft and submit to the next meeting a constitution and by-laws. At this meeting officers will be elected. Much enthusiasm is shown and a powerful organization is looked for.

The monthly meteorological summary for Miami, issued by the weather bureau office, shows that February kept up the record made by December and January for abnormal warm weather.
The mean temperature for the month was 70.8 degrees, which is two degrees above the normal, and the highest average temperature for February since 1905. The highest temperature recorded during the month was 85 degrees on the 12th, and the lowest was 48 degrees on the 17th. The greatest daily range of temperature was 23 degrees on the 17th, and the least daily range, six degrees on the 27th. The average temperature for the three winter months, December, January and February, was 71.6 degrees. This is 3.6 degrees above the seasonal normal, making the current winter the warmest on record for Miami. The record covers a period of 17 years extending back to the winter of 1895-1896.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

The Impossible.

There are people who are trying Night and day
To prevent the need of dying.
And they may
In some way
Find the secret they endeavor To uncover, so that never Any more
Will there come to man or woman Ils that erstwhile have been human.
So that no one need be faring To that shore
Where the sainted ones are wearing Crowns that they have won by daring To be free
From the sins that are so blighting
And are still, alas, delighting You and me.

They may find some way of making Youth endure
And for ils that leave us aching Learn the cure.
But be sure
That, however they endeavor, They need never, never, never Hope to find Any way whereby a vulture
May be taught to strive for culture And be kind.
And, though death may lose its terror,
You, my friend, will be in error
If you hope
There will ever come a season When a man devoid of reason May be set among the scholars Through the mere use of a dollar's Worth of dope.

The Professor.

It is said that Professor Blackie of ten told this anecdote "on himself." This old professor used to perform a very picturesque feature in the Edinburgh streets. He was a wiry old patriarch, with handsome features and hair falling in ringlets about his shoulders. No one who had seen him could possibly forget him. One day he was accosted by a very dirty little bootblack with his "Shine your boots, sir?" The professor was impressed by the filthiness of the boy's face.
"I don't want a shine, my lad," said he, "but if you'll go and wash your face I'll give you a sixpence."
"A' richt, sir," was the lad's reply.
Then he went over to a neighboring fountain and made his ablution. Returning, he held out his hand for the money.
"Well, my lad," said the professor,
"you have earned your sixpence. Here it is."
"I dinna want it," returned the boy with a lordly air. "You keep it and get your hair cut."—National Monthly.

Almost Discouraged.

A rancher returned from a year's trip to find that an old time neighbor of his, a man noted for his perfect patience, had been having a siege of bad luck. Upon hearing the news he immediately sought out the neighbor to condole with him.
"Well, John," he said after greetings had been exchanged, "I hear you lost all of your timber through the forest fires."
The other man nodded.
"And they say that the river cut off your best bottom land, that your hogs all died of cholera, that your wife and children have been sick and that they have now foreclosed the mortgage on your other place." John nodded again. "Yes; it's all true," he said, looking about him at what had once been his prosperous farm, "all true. Why, sometimes I almost get discouraged."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Care of Children.

"Willie, did you carry your books on the left side this morning?" demanded mother.
"Yes'm."
"Very well. Now, don't forget to carry them on the right side Monday morning."
"What difference does it make?"
growled dad.
"That shows what kind of a father you are," snapped the mother. "If the child didn't alternate he might get curvature of the spine."—Kansas City Journal.

Deserved to Be Lost.

"But," said the returned explorer,
"although I seemed to be hopelessly lost and there was not the slightest sign of a trail, I was not the least alarmed, for at that moment some nomadic Kurd rode into my camp."
"Why were you not alarmed?" asked a listener.
"I knew the Kurds would show me the way."—Stray Stories.

"Well, Binksy, have a good tour in your new car?" asked Hickenlooper.
"Pretty good," said Binksy.
"How did you find the roads?" asked Hickenlooper.
"By following the ruts," said Binksy.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

A Business Man's Queer Visitor.

George Fitch, the humorist, who is editing a paper in Peoria, Ill., tells a true story about Peoria that is interesting in view of the recent boom in land values throughout the country.
According to Fitch, a certain man named W. S. D. once upon a time took some Illinois land on a bad debt. He never visited his property, and after he had paid taxes on it for several years he had an offer for it which he accepted on the spot. The deeds were scarcely signed when he found that a city, Peoria, was growing up on that land. He was naturally annoyed, but

"WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?" ASKED THE BUSINESS-MAN.

several years later his annoyance was tinged with amusement. A stranger came into his office one day.
"What can I do for you?" asked the business man affably.
"Are you W. S. D.?"
"Yes, sir."
The man sat down and continued:
"Did you own the site of the city of Peoria?"
"Yes."
"Did you sell it for $500?"
"I did."
The stranger looked at him fully a minute. He appeared to be about to speak, but he said nothing. He got up, looked W. S. D. over again from head to foot and then tiptoed softly out of the room.—Country Gentleman.

FABLE FOR BENEFIT OF ADVERTISERS.

Simeon Ford Points a Moral With the Tale of a Goose.

Simeon Ford, the noted humorist, said in praise of newspaper advertising at a banquet in New York:
"There is a fable that all advertisers should have by heart. It runs like this:
"As a shopkeeper dozed, his head on the dusty counter of his shop, the gray cobwebs across his door were rent apart, and a goose entered.
"The shopkeeper rose with a glad smile. He thought he had a customer, but when he saw the goose he muttered an oath.
"What do you want here?" he said.
"This is no place for geese."
"Isn't it?" said the goose. "Quack, quack!" And it regarded the shopkeeper derisively, then went on:
"I've come, my dear sir, because I saw your advertisement on the fence that incloses your barnyard. I knew that you must be a goose or else a donkey, because otherwise you would place your advertisement in a newspaper, where it would be read by human beings, and not upon an isolated fence, where it is only read by donkeys and geese and other barnyard denizens.
So, being lonely today, I thought I'd make you a fraternal call. A couple of donks will probably drop in later."

Wild Oats and Porridge.

Professor Zephaniah Hopper, hale and vigorous at eighty-eight, said at the Philadelphia high school:
"My advice to the young is that they sow no wild oats. Wild oats in youth means an old age sad and decrepit.
And yet the way some people talk you'd think that wild oats were as essential a part of youth as domesticated oats are of Scotland."
Professor Hopper smiled and added:
"A friend of mine in Scotland said to a boy:
"What do you have for breakfast hereabouts?"
"Porridge," was the answer.
"And for dinner?"
"Porridge."
"And for supper?"
"Porridge."
"Goodness!" said my friend. "Porridge every day for every meal! Do you never have anything else?"
"What else would you have?" said the boy."—Washington Star.

The Royal Gwent glee singers, who are to give two concerts at the New Daytona theatre next Saturday and Sunday evenings, are claimed to be the finest male chorus that ever came across the Atlantic. Their repertoire embraces choruses, quartettes, duets and solos that appeal to the most exacting musical critics, as well as the lovers of popular music. Every member of the chorus is a vocalist of repute. The choir made a Another Grievance.

"There's a difference in time, you know, between this country and Europe," said a man in New York to a newly arrived Irishman. "For instance, your friends in Cork are in bed and fast asleep by this time, while we are enjoying ourselves in the early evening." "That's always the way," exclaimed Pat. "Ireland never got justice yet."—New York Telegraph.

Tramp's Memory Was Faulty.
A Kansas City (Mo.) man met a tramp in the street the other day and was asked for a meal. The man consented with surprising rapidity. He took the tramp to a restaurant, ordered him a meal and then called an officer and identified the tramp as one of a gang that had held him up and robbed him a few days before.

Stretched for a Gallop.
John, aged four, was walking along the street with his mother and they passed a butcher shop. John stopped to look at a little pig that was hanging in the window. He turned to his mother and said: "Look at the way that pig has his feet spread out. I bet they shot him while he was running."

Judge's Two Rules.
Judge Hans Hamilton, at the Blackpool (Eng.) county court, replying to an expression of regret at his forthcoming retirement, said that, in order to expedite business and save time, he always had in front of him, written in large letters upon a piece of blotting paper, the words: "Do not talk. Do not make jokes."

Zero Mark in Jobs.
A cry from the heart comes to "St. Martin's-le-Grand," which collects a curious "letter bag" of human interest. A woman, in opening an account in the postoffice savings bank gave her "occupation": "Cooking vegetarian meals for a dyspeptic husband."—London Chronicle.

Naturally.
"John," asked the little boy's solemn uncle, "can you tell me what happens when a man's temperature goes down as far as it will go?" "Well, uncle," was the little lad's intelligent answer, "I don't know edzac'y what would happen, but I'm sure he'd have cold feet."

For Relief From Insomnia.
If you really do not sleep soundly, if you lie awake much of the night and toss about, something soothing is needed in addition to deep breathing. If it is possible, walk in a park, watch the reflection of the evening stars in the water, or the moon shining through the trees. Then a brisk walk home.

Startling Sight.
Soon after the installment of the telegraph in Fredericksburg, Va., a little ducky saw a piece of newspaper that had blown up on one of the telegraph wires and caught there. Running to the house in a great state of excitement, he cried: "Miss Liza, come quick! Dem wires done buss and done let all the news out!"

Brazil's Valuable Water Power.
Fortunately for Brazil, without any coal of much value, there is water power to be found in almost every state in the republic, and the large power plants already installed for some years have been obliged to increase their voltage to meet the growing demands for light and power.

Better Than Drugs.
For people who are severely troubled with the inability to sleep soundly, some diversion is needed, a party, an entertainment or theater. Reading poets and philosophers will help, and very often a hot drink will prove a great help in inducing a natural and restful sleep. But above all, breathe deeply of good pure air just before retiring, and have your sleeping room well ventilated.

As It Is Talked in Boyville.
Two Fort Scott boys were quarreling. "I'll knock your block off if you bother me," one of them said. "No you won't," replied the other, "you can't do it. You ain't man enough." "Well, maybe not," answered the first belligerent, "but I'm just tellin' you that I'm dern fool enough to try it if you give me any more of that talk."
